Achieving remarkable success in your personal and professional life is more than just challenging. Adversity lurks around every corner. Bold and aggressive goals seem impossible to achieve. Learning actionable steps to impact mindset and overcome adversity will guide you on your path to become a high performer. Enter Jason Michaels...

Jason uses his true story of living and thriving with Tourette Syndrome - a misunderstood, debilitating neurological disorder - to connect with you and your professionals and share how he defied the naysayers who said it would be impossible to successfully live his dream of becoming a professional entertainer.

"Jason Michaels punched me in the face. If you want your team to take over the world, Jason will help get them there."

— Bo Jennings, Executive Director - Maple Ridge Events
